

2. Making the bricks

The clay mixture is loaded into a skip set up on a miniature railway.

Picture courtesy Noel Pycroft

The skip is winched up the ramp and dumped into the hopper of the brick press

Picture courtesy Noel Pycroft

The clay mixture that has been tipped into the hopper is compressed and forced into a sanded mould (on the bench). The sanded moulds were positioned and removed by hand.

Picture courtesy Noel Pycroft